

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFATORY NOTE.

As one whose mother was a Metcalfe and whose father served many years in India, it is not unnatural that the Author should take a special interest in Indian life.

But any such interest would have proved of little use in the present instance, had it not fallen to my lot, amid other duties, to have to examine closely many thousands of Indian official documents for purposes of cataloguing.

The following work contains a record of the titles of those Works of Reference—frequently concealed in other works—which I have met with in the course of the last ten years.

The results are here printed in the hope that they may prove of service to students of Indian History, and more especially to those to whom the prosperity of India is entrusted.

THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTORY EXPLANATIONS.

SECTIONAL ARRANGEMENT.

The following work is arranged in the following order:—

I. Bibliographies relating to ASIA AND THE EAST.

II. Bibliographies relating to INDIA generally.

Under II., INDIA, the works noted are entered as follows:—

A.—PERIODICAL REGISTERS.

B.—INDIAN OFFICIAL PUBLICATIONS.

C.—ENGLISH PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS, etc., RELATING TO INDIA.

D.—GENERAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES, etc.

E.—SPECIAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES, etc.

In all references to Anglo-Indian Literature, as indeed to the Literature of any country, information must be sought for according as it proceeds from two different sources:—

I. OFFICIAL LITERATURE.

II. NON-OFFICIAL (OR GENERAL) LITERATURE.

Subordinate also to each of these two great divisions, information will be found and must be sought for according as it is published in:

1. Separate Works.
2. Works of Reference.
3. Ordinary "Collected Works" (Essays, Collected Papers, Series, etc.)
4. Works of Learned Societies and State Institutions. (Chiefly Collected Works issued periodically.)
5. Ordinary Magazines and Reviews.

OFFICIAL LITERATURE.

I.—In a former paper on Bibliography ("A Plea for Annual Lists [or Catalogues] of State-Papers," 1891), I specified the main sources of publication of Indian Official Publications, past and present, as being six in number, i.e., that such documents may have been issued:

1. By the E. I. Company's Servants in India.
2. By the E. I. Company's Court of Directors in London (and even perhaps by the Board of Control).
3. As E. I. Company's Reports, published as "Parliamentary Papers."

4. By the British Government's Servants in India (i. The Supreme Government. ii. The Local Governments).
5. By the India Office in London.
6. As India Office Reports, published as English "Parliamentary Papers."

To such sources I should add a seventh, i.e., those Documents which are printed or published from time to time in London, concerning which the name of the real publishing authority is not clearly stated, and which are therefore easily lost and difficult to trace.

Occasionally also—if my memory is correct—Official Reports have been printed and published in London on behalf of one or other of the Governments of India.

GENERAL LITERATURE.

II.—The sources of General Literature relating to India are naturally more obvious, but search is hardly less difficult. In INDIA such Literature is carefully registered in the Periodical Registers specified in Section II. A. In other countries the General Literature relating to India (owing to the absence of Territorial Catalogues and a proper system of International Exchange of Titles) must be sought for according to the system of cataloguing General Literature pursued in each country. The following notes may be useful as indicating the ordinary channels of information in regard to ENGLISH (and certain AMERICAN) General Literature relating to India.

Periodical Literature," etc.)*

Notice that the American Annual Index refers more especially to the SPECIFIC SUBJECT, while the English Index frequently combines kindred subjects under one heading (with sub-headings), e.g., in the former a report on the Judicial System in Bengal would be found under Bengal, in the latter under India.

EXPLANATORY NOTE RELATIVE TO THE BRITISH MUSEUM CATALOGUE.

THE "General Catalogue" of the Library of the British Museum is primarily (A) an Authors' Catalogue of (B) General Literature.

In reference to (A), however, it is obvious that a considerable number of works in General Literature are anonymous, or impersonal in nature. Under the Rules of an Authors' Catalogue, this leads to the majority of works which relate to specified countries, towns, &c., being entered under the names of the places referred to. For this reason, a considerable number of works relating to India, Bengal, Bombay, Madras, Punjab, Calcutta, etc., will be found under those headings in the Authors' Catalogue of the Library of the British Museum.

In regard to Indian Official Documents in the Library of the British Museum, such publications (with few exceptions) do not appear in the Authors' Catalogue, as they require to be dealt with according to a different set of Cataloguing Rules.

There are, however, a considerable number of works of an official character relating to the old East India Companies under the heading East Indies, and under Portugal.—Colonies.—East Indies, etc., etc.
